

NOVIS LiftAid 320 Hoist

The LiftAid 320 is a heavy duty mobile lifter most suitable for professional care and rehabilitation settings. The armrests assist with gait training and toileting, but can be easily folded down to maximise lifting space or ensure compact storage when not needed.

The mast can also be easily removed from the base without the need to use tools to allow for more compact storage.

For patients who can support some of their own weight, the gait training vest can be used during mobility training or hygiene routines.

The three height settings make it possible to accommodate lifting and transfers from the floor, chair or bed. The electronic handheld controller is used to adjust the lift height as well as the leg spread.
